Dear Sir

Your inquiry needs no apology. I am obliged by the information.

I do not know any printed book with the title you transcribe

W. Rankine in 1558
published his "Seven Satyres applied to the Week, including the world's ridiculous, Follies." See my Bibl. Acc^t II. 227, but "Epigrammaticon" is new to me.

If I could see the MS.

I might be able to tell you more about it; and if you entrusted it to me for a day it would be all that is necessary.

A practiced eye might see many personal & temporary allusions in the verses of R. C. who, if the date you give be correct, might be Richard Carew.

Yours, very much obliged,
J. Payne Collier

J. M. Cooper Esq.
